Rojestvensky's Fleet Steaming Toward the Enemy.

CANNONADING HEARD

BELIEVED ADMIRAL WILL SEEK JUNCTURE WITH NEBOGATOFF

Before Engaging in Conflict — Tokyo and St. Petersburg Intensely Interested in Coming Climax.

KAMRANH BAY, Indo-China, via Saigon, April 24, 11:30 a.m.—The Russian squadron, consisting of fifty-two ships, including the transports, left Kamranh bay at noon April 22 and the main portion soon disappeared in a northerly direction. Sixteen vessels, the Russian cruiser Svetlana, the Russian hospital ship Oriz, four German transports, seven Danish transports and three Russian transports remained in the offing.

Fishermen and others assert that they heard heavy cannonading off Kamranh bay during the evening of April 22. Those who saw Admiral Rojestvensky prior to his departure say he is suffering from dysentery accompanied by severe pain. All the officers and crews of the Russian ships appeared to be full of confidence.

Rojestvensky's Intention.
It is believed here that it is Admiral Rojestvensky's intention to do everything possible to have Admiral Nebogatoff join him before undertaking a decisive battle. A torpedo boat destroyer is patrolling the coast.

The French third-class cruiser Descartes left here at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon for a point on the coast where a fisherman reports that he saw twenty warships. The man, however, was unable to give their nationality. Although the Russian crews were confident of victory, independent observers who got near enough to Admiral Rojestvensky's warships to be able to inspect them were not unanimous regarding the efficiency of the squadron.

THE RUSSIAN SQUADRON.

Reported Fifteen Miles From the Coast Steering Northward.

SAIGON, April 24.—According to the latest news received here, the Russian squadron was fifteen miles from the coast.

The vessels were steering northward.

Tokyo Anxious Over Situation.
TOKYO, April 24.—Information is keenly awaited regarding the movements of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron. It is generally believed that the Russian warships will either continue north from Kamranh until they reach China, or enter the Pacific ocean.

OPINION AT PARIS.

No Confirmation of the Report of Fleet Engagement.

PARIS, April 24.—1:20 p.m.—The foreign office and other government departments and the bourse were closed today in connection with the Easter holidays, which, with the Easter adjournment of both branches of parliament and the departure of President Loubet and most of the ministers, except Foreign Minister Delcasse, to attend the unveiling of the Gambetta statue at Bordeaux, has resulted in a period of calm after the excitement attending the Delcasse incident and the Japanese protest.

The foreign office was open briefly at noon when it was said that no confirmation had been received of the reported cannonading outside of Kamranh bay during the night of April 22, the day Admiral Rojestvensky left the coast of Annam.

The officials here discredit the report that the crew of the Russian cruiser Despatch, now at Haiphong, joined Admiral Rojestvensky's previous to his sailing. The official advice shows that the daily roll-call is made for the purpose of preventing the departure of any members of the crew.

The neutrality incident is officially considered closed. M. Delcasse's not accompanying M. Loubet to Bordeaux is due to the unsettled situation of the foreign question and to the possibility of further complications over neutrality.

Report Denied.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—The report that the crew of the Russian cruiser Diana interned at Saigon after the battle of August 10, but recently undergoing repairs at Haiphong, Tonkin, had joined Admiral Rojestvensky at Kamranh bay previous to the sailing of the Russian squadron April 22, is denied here.

Questions Foreign Telegrams.

The admiralty is disposed to accept with reservation all foreign telegrams announcing the whereabouts of Vice-Admiral Kamimura and the Japanese ships, believing that many of them are purposely sent out for strategic deception.

The Novorossiysk, this morning prints a rumor that the opposing squadrons were already engaged Saturday but the paper has nothing to support the report and no credence is placed in it.

RESCUED NEGRO YOUTH.

Sheriff Saved Him From Lynching on Murder Charge.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 24.—Speeding from an angry mob of 400 white people at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, today, Deputy Sheriff James C. Sheehy, in an automobile, rescued George Copeland, a negro youth, who had been tracked home by bloodhounds and arrested on a charge of assaulting and murdering Miss Miranda Bricker, a white woman, aged fifteen, who was sitting in the bottom of an automobile. One of the sheriff's deputies jumped in and a record run was made to Columbus, twelve miles away. There Copeland was placed in jail under heavy guard, awaiting the arrival of a train for Columbus.

The mob had not yet learned of the transfer and is being momentarily augmented by people from the country districts, attracted to the city by the news of the murder.

Sheriff Sheehy, before leaving Mt. Vernon addressed the mob and begged that the law be allowed to take its course, assuring the people that Copeland would be given a speedy trial.

Copeland was arrested after a pack of bloodhounds had trailed him in an automobile route to his home. A big crowd followed the dogs. There was evidence of a terrible struggle on the part of the woman,

CONFESSED TO MURDER.

Italian's Story Exonerated Man Held for the Crime.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Antonio

Zolopso, an Italian, today confessed to the murder of Frank Meleto, who was stabbed to death last night on the Delaware river front. In his confession he exonerated Eustace Fortunatus, who was arrested shortly after the commission of the crime on suspicion of being the murderer.

Early today the police arrested Zolopso, who bears a resemblance to Fortunatus. Zolopso was taken to the morgue, and when shown the body of Meleto, he shouted: "I did it," and fell in a faint.

Later at police headquarters Zolopso made a statement. He said that he and Meleto had been enemies for a number of years. The murdered man, he asserted, had formerly been engaged in the manufacture of counterfeit money and had employed Zolopso's brother-in-law to circulate the spurious coin. The latter was arrested and imprisoned. Last night Zolopso and Meleto met and quarreled and Zolopso stabbed Meleto to death. Both Zolopso and Fortunatus were held to await the action of the coroner.

ROBBERS SECURED JEWELS.

Shrewd Trick to Gain Entrance Into Chicago House.

CHICAGO, April 24.—On the pretense of serving a search warrant three men gained entrance to the apartments of Mrs. D. Gilmore, on 25th street, and at the point of a revolver robbed Mrs. Gilmore and Edward Groux of $2,500 worth of diamonds. The victims were then bound and thrust into a closet and the door locked on them.

After the robbers had departed Mrs. Gilmore turned out her bonds and released her hands. She and Groux were half strangled in their narrow quarters. Groux, to get a breath of fresh air, kicked out one of the panels in the door. He attempted to crawl through this, but the opening was too narrow. Another panel was then broken and Mrs. Gilmore crawled through. She secured a duplicate key and relieved Groux. About $2,500 worth of jewelry sought by the robbers was overlooked.

MANDATE AGAINST BEAVERS.

The United States Supreme Court today issued a mandate for the appearance of George W. Beaver in this district in the postal cases of the government. The mandate was issued upon request of Solicitor General Hoyt of the Department of Justice, in accordance with the court's decision of last Monday.

Mr. Hoyt also asked for a mandate in the case of Benson, whose presence is desired in the land office cases, but a general motion will be made for a rehearing. The court postponed its action for one week in the Benson matter.

EASTERN EGG ROLLING.

TERRORISM IN POLAND

Significant Letter Received in St. Petersburg.

REFERENCE TO WARSAW

ALL THE COUNTRY AFLAME OVER SOCIALISM.

Police Doing Nothing Toward Preserving Order—Work Impossible Under Existing Conditions.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24.—The news from Poland paints a picture of veritable terror before the expected storm. A letter received here reads:

"You know what happened at Warsaw, but you only know part of what is occurring throughout the country. All Poland is in a great conflagration of socialism, terror of which is everywhere exciting a terrible panic. We expect at Easter a general massacre of the Russian government officials and the wealthy, and the blowing up of the Vistula bridge to prevent the arrival of troops from Russia."

"The police are doing nothing. They pretend to be blind and deaf to what is passing around them. The existing regime is the cause of discontent, which is on the increase among the idle workmen driven from the factories and railroads because they are Poles. They say they will have vengeance."

Conditions at Vilna.

A letter from Vilna says: "Work is impossible under the existing conditions. The government's endless commissions have accomplished nothing and are convinced that open revolt and the bayonet are the only remedies. Easter may witness the inauguration of another insurrection like that of 1863, which began, as this may, with a Russian massacre."

Commenting on the above the Russ declares the government must act promptly if a awful carnage is to be avoided. The only thing to be done, it says, is to summon the moderates to give guarantees that the promised reforms will be realized.

Destruction of Private Property.

With the object of stopping the destruction of private property, which has been going on in the rural districts under the movement of the leaders of the peasant party, an imperial decree was issued today authorizing the minister of the interior, M. Boulgoin, to appoint commissions in the disturbed districts to trace the culprits, assess the losses and collect the amount of damage done from the members of the village communities implicated, whose whole personal and personal property is liable to be sold at auction for this purpose. The decree also orders the granting of state loans to land owners not possessing the means of repairing their losses.

The cruiser Raleigh, which some days ago sailed from Labuan, Borneo, for the Cuyos Islands, in the Philippines, has arrived at Cavite, according to a cable report to the Navy Department. It was assumed here that the Raleigh's commander had reason to believe that some of the ships of the hostile fleets might enter the Philippine waters in the vicinity of the Cuyos Islands, and was sent there for the purpose of observation.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

MYSTERIOUS RUMORS AGAIN RIFE AT ST. PETERSBURG.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 24, 5:55 p.m.—Mysterious rumors that another attempt at peace negotiations is impending are circulating in high quarters and the United States is directly mentioned as the intermediary. The Associated Press has not been able to obtain any confirmation of the reports.

No intimation of such a move has reached the American embassy, but at the foreign office this afternoon an official inquired, perhaps significantly, when President Roosevelt would return to Washington. As previously stated in these dispatches, a considerable party in the government holds strongly to the opinion that now that Admiral Rojestvensky is ready to strike, before the issue is put to the test would be the most opportune time for opening negotiations.

USE OF THE WORD REMINGTON.

Supreme Court Dismisses the Bill of Wyckoff, Seamans & Co.

In an opinion by Chief Justice Fuller the Supreme Court of the United States today ordered the dismissal of the bill in the case of Wyckoff, Seamans & Co. agt. the Howe Scales Company and others, involving the right of the Howe company to use the word "Remington" as a trade mark on typewriter manufacturers by it. The controversy grew out of the transfer by E. Remington & Sons to the Howe company of the rights of the right to manufacture the Remington Standard typewriter, and the association of some of the defendants with the Howe company. The purchasers sought to enjoin the use of the name of Remington, or of even the name "Rem-Sho," but the court held that this petition could not be granted in either case, thus reversing the lower courts.

ALL BIDS REJECTED.

New Proposals Will Be Asked for Erecting School Buildings in Alaska.

All bids for the construction of school buildings in Alaska have been rejected. Secretary Hitchcock has approved the recommendations of the board that has had the matter in charge, and advertisements for bids on several of the school houses will be inserted in the newspapers again. The original advertisements were published in February and called for bids for school buildings, some of which had teachers' residences attached, which were to be erected in all parts of Alaska. The sum of $20,000 was allotted for the work, and when the bids were received they were all too high. The board, which consisted of Dr. Sheldon Jackson, general agent for education in Alaska; Mr. William Hamilton, assistant general agent, and Mr. W. Bertrand Acker, chief of the patents and miscellaneous division of the Interior Department, carefully examined all the schedules for bids in connection with the erection of the buildings and decided to reject the under modified conditions. There were a number of school houses to be built in the extreme northern part of the territory, and these, the board believes, can be built better and cheaper under the direct supervision of the commissioner of education than by contract and consequently, it has recommended to the Secretary that bids for these buildings be cut out of the next advertisement. The buildings that remain will include structures at Wrangell, Jackson, Kilisnoo, Yakutat and Haines. Some of the other buildings are to be erected on the Arctic coast, on the Yukon river and in the interior of the territory. The board has estimated that these structures will cost about $5,000 each, the estimate being based on the cost of similar buildings erected by the government at similar points. Secretary Hitchcock has approved the recommendations of the board and advertisement will be made within the next few days.

Bellinger, quartermaster, and Capt. Joseph T. Crabbs, quartermaster.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL.

But the Prisoner Doubted the Arrangement Today.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Nan Patterson's third trial on the charge of killing her book-maker sweetheart is on in earnest today, and although she is confident of acquittal she is in great dread of the arraignment to which she will be subjected by Assistant District Attorney Rand in his opening address to the jury. This arraignment over, the taking of testimony will begin without delay, and for the next four weeks it is believed by both sides the trial will continue. Because of many new features which have developed since the last trial this will be practically a new case against the accused girl. J. Morgan Smith and his wife are now in the Tombs, and the testimony they will give is expected to throw entirely new light on the case.

At the last trial Abraham Levy of counsel for Nan Patterson declared that had her testimony been heard the innocence of the client would have been proved beyond the shadow of a doubt.

The Connecting Link.

Now that they will testify the prosecution is certain that what they will tell under oath to the jury will be a connecting link to prove that the girl murdered Young. Daniel O'Reilly, also of counsel for Miss Patterson, declares that the letters taken from the trunks of the Smiths at the time of their arrest in Cincinnati, are of no importance and will in no way influence the verdict of the jury. That the defense was

NAN PATTERSON TRIAL

Begun for the Third Time in New York Today.

RAND URGED JURYMEN

TO FORGET ALL ABOUT PREVIOUS PROSECUTIONS.

Features of Opening Address of Prosecution—Miss Patterson Overcome With Sudden Faintness.

NEW YORK, April 24.—For the third time within a period of six months Nan Patterson today sat in court and listened to Assistant District Attorney Rand explain to a jury what he, as the public prosecutor, proposed to do to convince them that she was guilty of the murder of "Caesar" Young.

In her previous trials the young woman had had the comfort of her father's presence by her side, but today she sat alone. Recorder Goff having ruled that any scene which might act upon the sympathy of the jurors must be avoided. While the outlook of the people's case, as given by Mr. Rand today, was practically a repetition of those which have gone before, it differed in some material respects.

Much of the evidence given at other trials will not be repeated this time, it appears, while the prosecution promises to introduce some entirely new features.

Mr. Rand's Opening Address.

In opening his address Mr. Rand urged the jurors to forget all that has been said and published about previous prosecution of the prisoner and to begin with an entirely fair and unbiased mind. "This has been a most sensational case," he said, "and you are facing a hard ordeal, particularly on account of the sex of the defendant. But this is not a case of chivalry, a court of morals; it is a court of law."

He warned them that the fact that an indictment had been returned against the prisoner must have no weight with them, and that they must not consider as against her the prisoner's mode of life.

Character of the Prisoner.

He concluded, however, that it was a misconception to believe that her character had nothing to do with the case. This, he believed, would have a most important bearing as showing a possible motive for the crime.

At the conclusion of Prosecutor Rand's opening argument Miss Patterson was taken with a sudden faintness, and Recorder Goff ordered a recess immediately. The defendant revived when the court room windows were opened and was able to walk unassisted back to her cell in the Tombs.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Nan Patterson's third trial on the charge of killing her book-maker sweetheart is on in earnest today, and although she is confident of acquittal she is in great dread of the arraignment to which she will be subjected by Assistant District Attorney Rand in his opening address to the jury. This arraignment over, the taking of testimony will begin without delay, and for the next four weeks it is believed by both sides the trial will continue. ## The Connecting Link.

Now that they will testify the prosecution is certain that what they will tell under oath to the jury will be a connecting link to prove that the girl murdered Young. Daniel O'Reilly, also of counsel for Miss Patterson, declares that the letters taken from the trunks of the Smiths at the time of their arrest in Cincinnati, are of no importance and will in no way influence the verdict of the jury. That the defense was ## anxious to get possession of those letters, however, has been shown time and again and that they will be used by the prosecution is certain.

When the trial opened Miss Patterson entered the court room and took her seat by the side of her counsel, and with a few preliminaries Mr. Rand began his arraignment of her. While Mr. Levy is opposed to Miss Patterson going on the stand in her own defense, because he thinks it unnecessary, it is expected she will testify. Her personal counsel, Mr. O'Reilly, believes that as long as she is on the stand making full denial of every charge made by Rand she has nothing to fear.

To Put on New Witness.

Mr. O'Reilly said today the defense would put on a new witness at the present trial to prove beyond question that Young owned and habitually carried a revolver. "We will show that on the day before the tragedy Young had a revolver at the race track," said O'Reilly. "He left this revolver in his dressing room at the track, and it was found there by one of his employees and returned to him."

Miss Patterson's breakfast today was a substantial meal of fruit, soft-boiled eggs, steak, French fried potatoes, rolls, coffee and cream. Nan ate heartily, and enjoyed the meal thoroughly.

During breakfast she discussed with her sister various phases in her case, growing very serious and emphatic at this. Before going to court Nan said: "I am more than ever now that my trial is under way. Easter services in this old prison were beautiful and have helped to cheer me greatly. The district attorney, of course, will be most severe, but that is the business of a prosecuting officer. The result of this trial will be a declaration of my innocence by a splendid set of jurors."

Assistant District Attorney Rand, in his opening address, dwelt upon the presumption of innocence which the jury should hold of the defendant, and declared that her mode of life must not be held against her. "She is on trial here, not for her conduct, but for murder," he said. "No prejudice should go against her because of her mode of life. You must remember that she comes before you an innocent woman in the eyes of the law."

The Revolver Incident.

That the prosecution has not abandoned its contention that the revolver with which Young was killed was purchased by J. Morgan Smith, was shown during Mr. Rand's opening argument. He challenged the defense to produce letters which, he said, they claimed to have knowledge of, that would show that Young had threatened to commit suicide. He said that he had seen the revolver. He declared that Young never owned or carried a revolver, and made the flat statement, "The revolver that killed Caesar Young was purchased by Joseph Morgan Smith."

THE SMITHS' CASE.

Petition of Counsel for Return of Letters Denied.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Justice Gaynor in the New York state supreme court in Brooklyn filed a decision denying the petition of counsel for J. Morgan Smith and his wife for an order compelling District Attorney Jerome to return the letters taken from the Smiths when they were arrested in Cincinnati. The Smiths were brought to this city on a charge of conspiracy with Nan Patterson to extort money from Caesar Young.

The Tacoma sailed from Pensacola for Monte Christi. It is explained at the Navy Department that the Topoke, which belongs to Admiral Sigsbee's squadron, is returning to Dominican waters after having come north for a new crew, and that the collier and supply ship will touch at the points named to give coal and supplies to vessels in port; also that the Castine and Detroit are returning to their stations after a cruise which was made to give shore landings to the crews, while the Truxtun is relieving the destroyer Stewart.
